

A vertical dashed line segment extending from the top to the bottom of the image, positioned approximately one-third of the way from the left edge.